Non-Residential Sewerage Charges

Non-residential customers are charged two different types of sewerage charges according to the New South Wales Government Best Practice Water and Sewerage Guidelines:

Water and Sewer Price List

Effective 1 July 2018

Page 3 of 23

1. Availability charge: proportional to the water meter size, charged cents per day.

Non-Residential Sewer Availability Charges 2018/2019

Nominal Size of Water Service	Annual Availability Charge ($)
20mm	$765.00
25mm	$1195.22
32mm	$1958.40
40mm	$3060.01
50mm	$4780.91
80mm	$12240.05
100mm	$19125.08
150mm	$43031.08

2. Sewer usage charge: rated on the amount of water usage (kL) through your water meter ($1.28/kL).

A Sewer Discharge Factor (SDF) is applied to both your availability charge and sewer usage charge. The Sewer Discharge Factor (SDF) is a number between 0.15 and 0.95 increasing in 0.05 increments and is dependent on your business type.

The SDF is typically the ratio of the estimated volume discharged into the sewer system compared to the total water consumed by the customer– reflecting the impact of their water use on the sewerage system.

The New South Government Best Practice Water and Sewerage Guidelines provide a list of recommended sewer discharge factors for different business types.

The customer's account will show the entire sewer availability and sewer usage charge. In the line under each of these separate charges there is a credit for the difference between the entire charge and the sewer discharge factor.

For example a small retail shop with a SDF of 0.95 will be separately credited five per cent of the charges – this means the business only pays 95 per cent of each charge.

VACANT LAND CHARGES

In accordance with the Water Management Act 2000 Essential Energy is obliged to apply vacant land charges to a property that, whilst not actually connected to water or sewerage services, these services are available for connection, and it is reasonably practicable for water to be supplied and sewer to be discharged.

These charges are a direct reflection of Essential Energy's ongoing investment and commitment to ensuring our customers have continued access to essential infrastructure and services wherever it is practicable. Regardless of whether a customer chooses to avail themselves of these services or not, Vacant Land water and sewer service charges are still applicable.

Vacant Land charges for 2018/2019 are as follows:

- > Water Availability charge $327.68 per annum ($0.89775/day)
- > Sewer Availability charge $535.73 per annum ($1.46775/day)

FLATS AND UNITS CHARGES

In line with NSW Government Best Practice Pricing Principles and in accordance with Best Practice Guidelines each flat/unit is treated as a residence in its own right. This means that each flat/unit receives Water Usage Charges per quarter at tier 1 as per the treated water residential charges. Additionally each flat/unit is charged a water availability and sewer availability. For example a premise with three flats will be charged as follows:

Single Residential charges	Three flats charges	Price per kilolitre
Tier 1	Tier 1	$1.80
Water access availability charge (per year) $327.68	3 x $327.68	$983.04
Sewer availability charge (per year) $535.73	3 x $535.73	$1607.19

OBSOLETE TARIFFS

From time to time water pricing options are made obsolete. Water customers will remain on obsolete prices until such time that the water customer sells the premise. The tariffs listed as obsolete are not available to water customers moving into premises or purchasing a property.

CUSTOMER PENSIONER WATER AND SEWER REBATE

Flat Water and Sewer rebate or Water rebate only is available for eligible pensioners and delivered by Essential Energy through rebates on water service accounts.
